Selassie Back In Power After Rebellion

By ABDEL KARIM EL MAHDI

ASMARA, Ethiopia (AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie prepared for a triumphal return to his capital of Addis Ababa today as the last lingering sparks of an ill-starred rebellion there appeared about to be stamped out.

The bearded "Conquering Lion of Judah," 68, reached this gaily decorated provincial capital Friday and received an uproarious welcome from almost the entire population.

He exonerated his eldest son, Crown Prince Asfa Wasson, 44, from blame for the revolutionary regime proclaimed in the capital last Wednesday by rebels in the palace guard.

"The rebels tried to make the prince their decoy," the defiant King of Kings said.

The prince, the empress, and other members of the royal family and leading Ethiopians loyal to the emperor were reported still being held prisoner in the Imperial Palace.

The rebels' headquarters are in the city, the emperor said, but all members of the royal family were reported in good health.

The rebels still controlled the post and telegraph office. But Selassie's commanders said the army had recaptured the city in general, including the airfield and the radio station.

The 5-foot emperor, survivor of many another crisis in his fight to win and hold the throne, which he has occupied for 30 years, said the latest rebellion was stirred up by some ambitious men whose speeches seem irrational.

Asked if a foreign power might have had a hand, he said: "It is difficult to say whether it was provoked from the outside or from within."

Revolutionaries, using Crown Prince Wassan as their mouthpiece, declared Wednesday they were establishing a new government to promote a sweeping program of reforms to end "3,000 years of injustice."

Warns Allies of New Soviet Campaign

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter warned the Western Allies today he wary of an expected campaign by Soviet Premier Khrushchev for renewal of East-West negotiations.

Herter told the 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization that Khrushchev apparently has won the consent of other Communist countries for more negotiations with the West. But he said Khrushchev is on the horns of a dilemma: How to avoid nuclear war and at the same time speed communism toward world domination.

Herter was speaking at the opening session of a regular meeting of NATO foreign and defense ministers.

President Eisenhower, in a farewell message to NATO, called for "an even greater unity of thought."

President-elect Completes List For His Cabinet

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy plans to complete his Cabinet today by naming a postmaster general. This choice is expected to be J. Edward Day, a Los Angeles insurance executive.

Kennedy scheduled a morning news conference to announce his 10th and final selection for the Cabinet of the new administration taking over the reins of government Jan. 20.

Day, 46, a Democrat, flew to Palm Beach from Washington with the president-elect Friday night.

The prediction was that Day would be at Kennedy's meeting with newsmen for official disclosure of the appointment as postmaster general.

Day, who was a Kennedy backer as a delegate to the Democratic National Convention last executive vice president in charge of Western operations of the Prudential Insurance Co. of America.

There were reports that Kennedy may pick W. H. Brawley, chief clerk of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee, to be deputy postmaster general.

Brawley figured in speculation earlier as possible choice for head of the Post Office Department.

Another Kennedy appointment, said to be in the works would give the job of treasurer of the United States to Elizabeth Smith, Democratic national committee woman for California.

That would put Mrs. Smith's signature on all the nation's paper currency, along with that of Douglas Dillon, chosen by Kennedy Friday to be secretary of the Treasury.

Dillon, a Republican, is under secretary of state in the outgoing Eisenhower administration.

A few minutes after announcing selection of Dillon, Kennedy came back to the doorstep of his Georgetown home in Washington and told reporters he was appointing his brother Robert, 35, attorney general.

The president-elect also announced selection of Byron (Whizzer) White, Denver attorney who was an All-America football player, as deputy attorney general.

And his disclosed that Harry J. Anslinger, federal narcotics commissioner for many years, has agreed to stay on in that job in the new administration.

Robert Kennedy, who was his brother's campaign manager, also was aboard the president-elect's private plane on the flight from Washington. Along, too, were two of Robert's seven children—Joseph, 8, and Bobby Jr., 8.

State Road Death Toll Goes Down

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas has consistently reduced its highway death toll since 1957, but a co-ordinated traffic safety program is needed to sharply reduce the present toll.

State Police and other state employees connected with traffic problems heard this opinion Thursday from James Don Hill of Dallas, field representative for the National Safety Council.

Hill said one of the keys to reducing the death and accident toll is executive or legislative decision to meet traffic problems head-on.

"The Arkansas inventory of traffic safety activities reflects a program barely holding its own against the problem it faces, and lacking the decision and resources to make any substantial gains," Hill said.

The state death toll was reduced from 49 in 1957 to 459 in 1959. So far 1960 has shown a continuation in the downward trend.

But Hill said that, compared with the national average, the state's death toll still is too high. He said the national death average is 5.4 deaths for each million miles of highway travel. Arkansas' average is 6.5.

Hill said Arkansas still has too few traffic officers. He said the state has one trooper for each 34 miles of paved highway, and should have one man for each 23 miles. He said Arkansas needs a state safety co-ordinating committee to nail down the immediate needs and to work with the public and elected officials to meet them.

"On the basis of present national trends," Hill said, "it can be expected that every other Groote Schuur hospital. He entered the hospital three days ago. The nature of his illness was not disclosed.

Appropriations Total $35 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Legislative Council has recommended appropriations totaling more than $35 million a year for the next two fiscal years.

The total was disclosed today after the council staff had tabulated the individual recommendations.

The amount is about $4 million more than appropriations made by the 1959 General Assembly but is $1 million less than the various agencies had requested.

As always, the total is considerably more than anticipated revenues. The state government must operate within actual revenues.

The council's recommendations will be presented to the 1961 General Assembly, which convenes next month.

Collision of Planes Like a Giant Bomb

NEW YORK (AP)—A Staten Island housewife said today the explosion of a Trans World Airlines plane in collision with a United Air Lines plane was like a giant bomb going off.

Ethel Walker of New Dorp on Staten Island said she was in her home near where the plane fell.

"I heard the explosion and looked out. I saw a big cloud of smoke, a mass of flames falling through the sky."

Clifford Benth, an oil deliveryman, said he heard what appeared to be a plane in distress and looked up.

"I saw the engine on the right side blow up. I only saw one plane. Then the second engine on the right side blew up and when it did it blew the tail section to pieces."

"I saw a couple of people falling out of the plane. It was on fire from the time it blew up to the time it crashed."

Edward V. Curry of New Dorp, a New York City councilman said, "The plane was a ball of flame. It crashed through the air like a comet."

Mrs. John S. Bailey of New Dorp, a housewife, said "I saw the wing come off. It kept turning around just like a toy. It was all in flames. It went down in spirals and in flames."

The plane crashed on a large field which is skirted by Hyland Boulevard, a major thoroughfare. Parts of the aircraft were scattered over the field and boulevard.

One mail bag went through the roof of a parked car.

Witnesses on Stand in Bahama Case

NASSA, Bahamas (AP)—Alvin Table Jr. tells his version today of a buccaner-like slaying and boat theft in which he and another American are accused of murder and robbery.

Opposing witnesses testified that Table, 25, of Torrance, Calif., wasn't even aboard the Islamorada, Fla., charter fishing boat Muriel II when its skipper, Angus Boatwright, 55, was fatally shot April 24 off Elbow Cay.

But Boatwright's passengers, four Pennsylvania vacationists, said Table tried to talk his shipwrecked companion, Billy Wayne Sees, 23, of Etowah, Ark., into getting rid of all witnesses to Sees' shooting of the skipper.

Sees admitted Thursday on the stand that he pulled a pistol on Boatwright when the latter refused passage to civilization for Sees, Table and the latter's wife Barbara.

When Boatwright grabbed a rifle Sees fired twice in self defense, he said, adding "It looked like it must be me or him."

Sees denied having any violent intent when he swam out to the Muriel II in response, he said, to an invitation from Boatwright. He said he habitually carried a pistol in his belt. Sees said he offered to pay for a lift on the Muriel II.

Kent Hokanson, mate of the Muriel II denied any recollection that Sees offered to pay for passage.

Sees and Table were captured in the Muriel II by the Cuban Navy after Hokanson and the four Pennsylvanians were allowed to make their way to shore, helping Boatwright, who died later.

Nations Over the World Observe Christmas But Not Always at the Same Time

By MARY ANITA LASETER

Do you think Christmas is almost here? Well, for some people in the world it is now a thing of the past, while for others it won't take place until January. How do I know? Thanks to Esther Hicks for some valuable research done on the subject.

It seems that Dec. 6 is the day on which the long Christmas season opens for Austrians, Belgians, Bulgarians, French, Germans, Greeks, Hungarians, Dutch, Swiss and Italians. On that date Santa Claus, also called Griskindl, Saint Nicholas or Shen Koli, comes with his pack of gifts for children.

Actually, just the frivolous part of the Christmas celebration is all that is past in those countries after Dec. 6, leaving Christmas Day free for feasting, carol singing and visiting relatives and friends to exchange Christmas greetings.

It is strange that the Armenians, who were the first people in the world to set up a Christmas state, are the last one to observe Christmas. Strictly speaking, they might be a year ahead of everyone else, as they celebrate Christmas Eve on Jan. 6 by eating fried fish, lettuce and boiled spinach. You see, they believe that Mary ate boiled spinach the night before Christ was born. The festival lasts three days with visiting and merrymaking.

The date for Christmas in most lands is Dec. 25. No one knows for sure when the Christmas festival was first celebrated, but in 354, Dec. 25 was adopted by order of Bishop Liberius of Rome. It was noted later that this date would fall within the rainy season in Palestine, so that the shepherds would hardly have been in the fields at night as they were when Jesus was born.

Nevertheless, Christmas and Dec. 25 are one and the same on most calendars today. Chrysostom spoke of it in 380 as a custom of long standing, and Clement of Alexandria spoke of it again in the 400's. So, the observance on this date is nothing new by any means.

The early church fathers probably chose Dec. 25 because the feast of the sun was a familiar Roman feast celebrating the victory of light over darkness. This idea was easily turned from a pagan to a Christian one, since Christians consider Christ as the light of the world.

The celebration of the birth of the Son of God should not place as much importance on when as it does on HOW it is observed. If we remember whose birth we are observing, one spirit of friendly good will won't end with a 24-hour span of time either.

Let's give Jesus Christ a present this Christmas. After all it's his birthday. Give him yourself, and he will ask nothing more.

College Board, ALC in Meeting

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Legislative Council and the board of Arkansas AM&N College at Pine Bluff met in a closed session today, apparently to discuss the personnel situation at AM&N.

Several months ago the board asked for the resignation of Dr. Lawrence Davis, president of the Negro school. Davis declined to resign but indicated he would not resist dismissal. Since then the matter has been in abeyance.

The situation arose after an audit report said there had been irregularities in the handling of some scholarship money at the college. Davis disclaimed any personal responsibility.

Before the closed session, C. E. Harrison of Portland, president of the college board, said his group plans to make a detailed study of the audit and to make whatever "staff and personnel changes" it might consider needed.

Wreckage Scene Was Shocking

NEW YORK (AP)—The scene was one of such shocking horror that many of the residents of the normally quiet Park Slope neighborhood in Brooklyn walked stunned into their homes and pulled down the shades.

An entire city block was left a smoking rubble of bricks, plaster and splintered wood today after a United Air Lines plane plunged into it out of a snowy sky. The plane and a Trans World Airlines craft had collided earlier, the TWA plane falling on Staten Island.

The toll of nonpassengers was put at nine as 12 firemen and 10 policemen continued a search for victims.

Of 120 persons—many holiday-bound—aboard the two planes, the sole survivor was Stephen Baliz, 11, of Chicago. He remained in critical condition in a Brooklyn hospital.

Recording tapes and an automatic jet flight recorder may tell why the Trans World Airlines Constellation and the United Air Lines jet rammed into one another, 6,000 feet over Staten Island. The UAL DCB, when it crashed, continued on for 11 miles before crashing in the park slope section of Brooklyn.

The TWA plane, with 44 aboard en route from Dayton and Columbus, Ohio, landed in flaming sections on Little Miller Army Airfield on Staten Island.

Part of the jet's wreckage smashed in to the Pillar of Fire Church. The structure was destroyed, and the caretaker was missing.

It was the first time in aviation history that a pure jet with passengers aboard crashed in America.

The Civil Aeronautics Board, in plying the tapes and recorder Friday afternoon, Airport employees also were being questioned and the maintenance records of the two planes involved were checked.

The CAB put more than 30 investigators on the case, the largest force it ever has assembled to probe a crash.

Two of Trio Are Wanted in Texas

MIAMI, Ark. (AP)—Three men, two of them escapees from the Longview, Tex., jail, were arrested by Ashley County officers early today near Parkdale.

Sheriff B. A. Courson said Billy George Anderson, 26 from Texas and Boyce Harris, 25, of Jones, La., surrendered when officers stopped the car in which they were riding.

Timothy B. Starlock, 28, of Parkdale, jumped out of the car and ran. Courson said, but officers tracked him with hounds and arrested him about three hours later in the Parkdale Baptist Church where he had fallen asleep.

Courson said Anderson and Starlock broke jail Wednesday night at Longview.

Starlock, also charged with a Sept. 7 safe burglary at nearby Crossett, and Harris, against whom no charges had been placed, were held in jail here.

Anderson was being held for Texas authorities in the Bastrop, La., jail.

Courson said that Anderson and Starlock drove a truck from Texas and abandoned it in Louisiana, a short distance south of the Arkansas line.

Teachers Board for Bond Issue

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas State Teachers College Board of Trustees and President Silas D. Snow have endorsed the proposed $53 million college construction bond issue.

The board, acting at a meeting Thursday, also endorsed a proposed one cent a battle tax on soft drinks. The tax money would be used to retire the bond issue.

Snow told the board that ASTC's share of the construction fund would be $3,800,000.

The bond proposal will be presented to the 1961 Legislature which may refer it to a vote of the people.

Start of ASTC's summer session was set for June 5 in other action.

"I remember looking out the plane window at the snow below covering the city," Stephen said later from his hospital bed. "It looked like a picture out of a fairy book. It was a beautiful sight."

"Then all of a sudden there was an explosion. The plane started to fall, and people started to scream."

"I held onto my seat, and then the plane crashed. That's all I remember."

The giant craft, plummeting down like a fiery, wounded bird, slammed into the heart of Brooklyn.

and action in the alliance. Herter read the message from the outgoing American president, who is regarded as one of the founding fathers of the NATO alliance. He served as the alliance's first supreme commander and gave the NATO program strong support in eight years as head of the American government.

Eisenhower said in his message that he was greatly encouraged by the immense progress made by the Atlantic alliance during the last decade.

Referring to the recent Moscow summit meeting of Communist powers, Herter remarked that Khrushchev has since been more belligerent.

Herter particularly pointed out the scathing attacks by Khrushchev on U.S. policy after the Moscow Communist summit. While the Reds called for peaceful co-existence in their final communiqué, the document was sprinkled with bitter attacks on the West.

The purpose of the annual top-level NATO session is to conduct a formal probe of Communist intentions and decide what the West will do to counter Red moves.

Herter's view that the world condition has generally worsened since the NATO meeting last December was understood to be generally supported by most of the NATO powers, specifically including Britain, France and West Germany.

DOROTHY DIX

The Wailing Wall

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

I don't believe any other real woman does!

Here's a bitter but human wall from a wife whose husband strays from the straight and narrow path.

Dear Helen:

This is addressed to all husbands, including mine, who think their secretary, nurse, or what have you, more glamorous and appealing than their 16-hour-a-day dutiful wife.

Do you husbands ever stop to think that your present affluence may be due to your wife's thrift?

Did you ever see the other woman between 7 and 11 in the morning on her day off, while she was doing the weekly laundry, house-cleaning, canning or gardening? Is she as glamorous then as at the office, or is her salary such that she can hire a maid while she goes to the beauty parlor?

Do you ever give your wife a pat on the back, stroke her hair and compliment her on her work as you do your secretary?

Wives are human too and can be deeply hurt by their husbands' unfeeling attitudes.

You say wives should sit up and take notice of a secretary's style, warmth and grace. How about you husbands counting the many blessings your wives have bestowed upon you—children for one?—Busy, Thrifty, Housewife!

Dear Dorothy, Thrifty Housewife: I feel for you yet, in the long run you are better off than the secretary.

As office wife she may possess his attention, even affection, but you bear his name, are the mother of his children, and have society on your side. I'm sorry for her too—perhaps even a little more than for you because hers is the harder role.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Attention from a Married Man."

Pope John Names New Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today named four new cardinals, including the Most Rev. Joseph B. Ritter, archbishop of St. Louis, Mo.

Two South Americans and an Italian were the others elevated by the pontiff.

The Italian prelate is Msgr. Giuseppe Perrotti, a member of the Vatican Curia.

The new Latin-American cardinals are the Most Rev. Luis Concha Cordoba, archbishop of Bogota, and the Most Rev. Jose Umberto Quintero, archbishop of Caracas.

They will be elevated at a secret consistory at the Vatican Jan. 1.

Creation of the four new cardinals will bring the membership of the Sacred College of the Roman Catholic Church to an all-time record of 8.

There was no indication today that the Pope would make public at the Jan. 16 consistory the names of the three cardinals he designated "in pectore" (in his heart) on March 28, 1960. At that time the Pope named seven new cardinals which brought the college to a total of 85, plus the three "in pectore."

The latter, after their names are made known, will be considered to have been members of the college since the March date.

Elevation of Archbishop Ritter brings U.S. representation to six. The others are Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, Albert Gregory Cardinal Meyer of Chicago, James Francis L. Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston, and Aloisius Cardinal Muench, former bishop of Fargo, N.D., and now a member of the Vatican Curia.

John Cardinal O'Hara, archbishop of Philadelphia, died last August.

The consistory will be the first called by Pope John to create new cardinals since he became Pope only a little more than two years ago.

In the first three consistories he named a total of 30 cardinals. They included the Roman Catholic Church's first Negro cardinal, first Japanese cardinal and first Filipino cardinal. For the first time in history this gave representation in the college to all the world's major races.

Bids Taken on River Channels

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Construction firms from Houston and Memphis apparently are the low bidders on two sets of bids for a cut-off channel to eliminate a horseshoe bend in the Arkansas River seven miles downstream from Little Rock.

McGinnis Brothers Inc. of Houston submitted an apparent low bid for $182,942 to excavate a pilot channel about 1.6 miles long to replace a curve two miles long.

Haedwick & Ingram of West Memphis submitted an apparent low bid of $240,652 to construct a stone revetment in a trench paralleling the east side of the pilot channel.

Bids were opened Thursday by the Army Corps of Engineers.

When the pilot channel and revetment are completed, the old channel will be closed off and the water diverted into the pilot channel, the current widening the new channel gradually until it reaches the stone revetment.

Farmers Gather for Forum

MEMPHIS (AP) — Some 700 farmers from Arkansas, Mississippi, Missouri and Tennessee gathered today for the 27th annual MidSouth Farm Forum and Plant to Prosper Rally.

Dr. Andrew D. Holt, president of the University of Tennessee, will be principal speaker.

The rally is the climax of a farm improvement competition sponsored by The Commercial Appeal.

Prizes totaling $3,000 go to P-to-P contestants who made the best records during the year.

The awards will be made at a dinner tonight.

Reds Charge American

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda said today Clare H. Timberlake, U.S. ambassador in the Congo, was "adviser of a gang of traitors" headed by Col. Joseph Mobutu, Congolese army chief.

The Communist party newspaper asserted Timberlake personally chose Mobutu to head a conspiracy to overthrow Patrice Lumumba as premier last September.

THE STORY: Bart Wagner has admitted to Catherine Lewis that he is a former marshal forced to flee because of a shooting. He is searching for an old man who can clear him of the alleged crime.

CHAPTER VI

He poured a last-half-cup of coffee. "By the way, that dead horse in the corral—I figured I'd drag it up the road a piece, it's beginning to smell."

"I wish you would."

The coffee was scalding-hot. "And the dog? I'll throw it in the wagon!" He blew on the coffee. "The buzzards will take care of the chickens if the coyotes haven't."

She showed an unexpected flash of anger. "They killed them because I liked them."

He looked at her skeptically. how did Xenophon Jones know you liked chickens?"

She said, "I told you I had known him before—and when Jones first came here, looking for a hideout, he ran across my husband in Clarendon."

He looked at her speculatively. "There's more here than you've told me," he said.

"No!" She stood straight and proud. Jones tried to make love to me, but I would not allow it. He swore he'd get even. That's all."

"And the chickens? Where do they come in?"

She rubbed the knuckles of one hand against her lips. "They are the only things I ever had of my own." She stared at the stove. "I liked the chickens because it was so lonely here. It was like friends talking—the only friends I knew in the world."

In midafternoon he saw what looked like the headquarters of a good-sized spread, and presently he came to a big arroyo. The L.J. brand was burned into a cottonwood log across the top and he knew he ought to drive in and let Catherine's neighbors know what had happened to Ben Lewis.

He turned in through the arroyo and followed the road over a mile to where it dipped into a flat meadow along the creek. Without warning he rounded a turn and came out of the meadow and saw the L.J. spread before him: A big ranch house that covered a considerable amount of sod, barns, and corrals all over. Three freight wagons stood in the yard, and all were newly painted in blue and red-army wagons.

He drove up in front, and a big-hatted man with sideburns walked out from the front of the ranch house to meet him. Bart pulled up the mules and set the brake.

The big man's eyes flicked over the "brands" on the mules. "Your outfit?" he asked.

Bart recognized the question as an invitation to trouble. He said easily, still holding the reins: "Not mine. Ben Lewis'—or, rather, his widow's."

The sideburned man looked at him sharply. "His widow?"

Bart said, "He was killed by outlaws two days ago."

It did not seem to astonish him. "Too bad. You helping Catherine out?"

"For a while."

Bart tied the reins around the foot-iron and climbed over the side.

"Name's Harding," said the man. "Tom Harding. I own the L.J."

"Nice spread," Bart held out his hand. "My name's Bart Wagner."

He saw a flicker of recognition in Harding's eyes as Harding shook hands.

"Come on around the back. We've got something going on back here."

Bart followed him around the ranch house and halted in astonishment. A crew of cowhands was around the front of a wagon with the tongue propped up on a doubletree so the outer end was high in the air. A rope ran through the ring at the end of the tongue, and below the ring it was tied around a man's neck. The other end of the rope was held by two husky hands about 20 feet in front of the wagon.

"I saw you coming," Harding said, "and I thought I better meet you. A man never knows but what a Ranger might come up without warning."

A man, squatting near the doubletree, drawing idle designs in the dirt with a stick, said, "Haul 'im up again," and the two men on the rope dug in their boots, heels and pulled on the rope until the victim's feet left the ground, and he hung there with about a foot of air below him, and his body twisted with the rope and his face turned blue.

"All right," said the one who had given the order, and they let the fellow down. His hands were tied together, and he had trouble standing when they let him down, but nobody offered help. He fell over, and they let him stay there. Bart looked around at the crew, all watching and waiting.

The one who had given the order stalked over to them. "He

Two Women Die in House Fire

LINCOLN, Ark. (AP) — Two women died early today in a fire which destroyed their home here. Dead are Mrs. Jessie Hammersley, about 75, and her daughter, Miss Flora Hammersley, about 15.

appointment was made from the doorstep of Kennedy's home in Georgetown.

Kennedy said that Dillon wished to return to private life, but had agreed to accept the Cabinet post. Dillon has served with the Eisenhower administration since 1953 when he was appointed ambassador to France.

Apart from picking a Cabinet, Kennedy arranged to confer with Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts. That session is almost certain to deal with selection of a man to take over Kennedy's Senate seat when he resigns from that position before the end of the year.

The successor will be named by Democrat Furcolo, defeated in his bid for re-election.

The president-elect Thursday night picked Freeman, who also lost out in his quest for another term as Minnesota's governor, for the politically explosive job of heading the Agriculture Department.

Three hours earlier Kennedy tapped Goldberg—special counsel to the AFL-CIO—for the labor position, a potential hot spot for a union man in dealing with management along with labor.

Freeman, 42, and Goldberg, 52, are Democrats. They stood with Kennedy at the door of his Georgetown home as he announced the appointments.

After Freeman had been named he stepped aside and was replaced next to Kennedy by Rep. George McGovern, D-S.D., who ran unsuccessfully for a Senate seat in November. Kennedy said he had chosen McGovern to serve as director of the new administration's food-for-peace program — a plan for building good will abroad through distribution of American surplus farm commodities.

Still later in the evening Kennedy touched off more speculation regarding his forthcoming choice for secretary of the Treasury by the conferring at his home with Eugene R. Black, president of the World Bank. Black told newsmen the two had talked about "the financial situation."

A neighbor discovered the fire about 1 a.m., but the frame building collapsed before firemen arrived.

The bodies were found in bed. Officers said the elder woman was an invalid.

Miss Hammersley worked as a clerk-typist at the University of Arkansas.

Bobcats Lose Two Games To Spring Hill

By Vince Foster
Hope Star Sports Writer

Last night, Hope dropped two games to Spring Hill while winning one as the Junior High boys beat Spring Hill, 30-26, the Hope Lady Cats were edged out, 46-40 in a thriller, and the "B" boys were tripped up by the Spring Hill Seniors 50-36.

Hope took a quick lead in the "B" game of 8-3, but Spring Hill began hitting and at the end of the first quarter Hope lead 10-9. The second half was abig one for Spring Hill as they took 23 points most of them against Hope's second team and at halftime they lead Hope 32-19.

Hope edged up a little in the 3rd with the score at the end of the quarter 41-30. The margin remained about the same until Coach Pierce sent in his second squad, who allowed Spring Hill to up their lead to 58-36 at the buzzer.

Earl Ray Murphy was again high man for the "B" boys with 7 points. Compton and Walker got 6 each, while Purdie and "yours truly" sunk 5 each, with PPorter, field getting 4, Green 2, and Wray 1.

The Senior Girls played a wonderful game against the Spring Hill Ladies, who were supposed to have stomped Hope. The Hope Girls led 10-6 at the end of the first period. The visitors had a big quarter in the 2nd as they picked up 15 and led at the half 21-16. Nita Messer led Hope with 10 points as they tried to edge up on Spring Hill in the 3rd. With 1 1-2 minutes left in the game, our Senior Ladies tied up the visitors 40-40. Then Spring Hill picked up 6 points and our ladies couldn't pick it back up.

Nita Messer, a surprise this year, took 22 points, and Brenda Mitchell sunk 14. Judy Robinson dropped in 4 points, two of them coming with a seldom seen hook shot. Defensive players for Hope were Violet Tonemaker, Barbara Wester, and Tonna Taylor. Gallo-way of Spring Hill, one of the top girl players in the state, sunk a big 31 points.

Susan Cook led the Hope Junior Girls in their first victory of the year 15 points, while Carla Reeves got 6, Jennifer Smith 7, and Carol Taylor 2. Defensive players for Hope were Judy Owens, Nancy Rallier, and Gwen Parmey.

"Just Then"

... the thought occurred, who of us can escape accident, sickness, death... the common lot of mankind?" We do well to buy accident or hospitalization insurance. But only God can prepare our minds for enforced leisure and to endure suffering. His church and the inspiration of His Holy Word bring more of sunshine than of shadow. Of course the visit of a friend or the helping hand of a loved one minimizes the bondage of this wheelchair and helps us remember that the future is in His keeping. For He said, "They who wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength."
